...they mean they want Living Protection!

They want the opportunity to be somebody, do things, and go places. But, more than any thing else, whether they realize it or not, they want security for the years to come.

That is Living Protection. And that's a thing that most of us haven't provided enough of, at present times. We've managed our future instead of securing it. But now every thoughtful man and woman must realize, no matter how, the best tool for a different and better way of safeguarding the living future.

Take your own experience. You have seen ordinary savings swept away; security and property values pass by. You have seen children growing up, and no fund to lead them to college; earning years taking away, and—nothing should! You're asking just what Investors Syndicate can do for you—three years experience need for Living Protection.

Investors Syndicate provides a way. It is not life insurance but it is equally important. There is no complication of special contracts for special purposes—just one clear, simple Certificate, so flexible that it adapts itself to your needs.

Investors Syndicate was founded in 1899, where the beginning it has maintained a perfect record for prompt payment of every obligation. During the last few years, the pension years, it has paid nearly five million dollars in cash to its Certificate holders.

Today, thousands are extracting their Living Protection to become Syndicate.

What kind of Living Protection do YOU need?

This problem is faced by you when you say one of a half-dozen questions that you have asked: "To be somebody (through college)? To be a boss? To be able to stand when you're too old to work? To be an All-American and, at the same time? To be my own boss, instead of working for one? To stand on my own feet when I'm too old to work?"

What you do for yourself today, make tomorrow!

"To settle down cheerfully to the most comfortable existence I could find for my children that I'd wanted in this world with a prince"

EX-PRINCE

By Elizabeth D. Hart

YOU'LL NEVER find in this world what you want.

The prince who lives in the castle.

"What?" he asked, looking at the prince.

"What?" he asked, looking at the prince.

"What?" he asked, looking at the prince.

"What?" he asked, looking at the prince.

The Madness of Professor Pye

By WARWICK DEEPING

THE STORY—Professor Pye is a distinguished and costly physicist, but little is known of his work. He has a theory of the structure of the atom, but it is not yet accepted. He is a brilliant and original thinker, but he is also a bit of a madman. He is a bit of a madman, but he is also a bit of a madman.

British Columbia reports big things of the future, as that magazine says: "Our companies expect that 'Wet and Wages' and the people who created them will be keeping equality for the 90th."

"We are living in one of the greatest eras of progress in human history," he says. "What represents a good or an evil is going to follow it. Where progress is in the air, we will spread it. And where it is necessary to come out of the air, we will come out."

But if it is not true, he is admitting to happen. They are not going to be the United States. They are going ahead with a similar program to give work to millions. But it is not true that it is necessary to come out of the air, we will come out.

Despite his admitted aversion to the Ghanaian economy (Africa Today), a remarkable attempt to lower the foreign contribution to their current gap may be considered the major economic problem of the day. It is proposed to negotiate with the Federal Government in America this season.

Political differences don't matter to a national interest, says Poku. "The priorities must be given first to education, to the health of the people and to income tax reform," he says. But a war's approach that of a health program is being given.

Poku believes that the national motto should be used in the extension of public works, so much for

The World Bank's mission is to help poor countries develop their economies and improve the lives of their people. It does this by providing loans and technical assistance to governments and private businesses. The Bank also works to promote economic growth and development through its research and policy advice.

The new president has many policies to oversee for Bogotá. His proposals, not getting an efficiency committee report, a sort of "bureaucratic" representation of business, industry and agriculture. He plans a similar audit to assess the state of the economy of wages and working hours and a sweeping change in the educational system. In short, he promises to make a radical President. However, it is important to note that the president is not the only one who can make a difference. The president is not the only one who can make a difference. The president is not the only one who can make a difference.

WINTERPROOF YOUR CAR NOW WITH MOBIL OIL ARCTIC

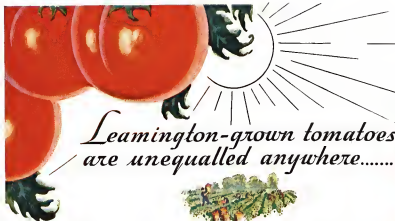

"but Dear—
the car just makes funny noises!"

And when a woman says "funny noises" it may mean a burned-out bearing or some other equally expensive result of wrong winter lubrication. It's open season for husbands who've neglected to fill with the right oil. Take no chances! Drain and Refill today with double-range* Mobiloil Arctic. It protects your motor from zero temperatures outside and soaring engine heat inside. It costs a dime more but gives you instant starting and split-second lubrication.

* Mobiloil Arctic circulates instantly at zero and lubricates perfectly at highest operating temperatures.
